Do Something Funny for Money

In the UK it is famous Red Nose Day. It is organized every two years by Comic Relief, a charity group that aims to reduce poverty and social injustice in the UK and in the poorest countries across the world.

On the Red Nose Day, the whole country gets together to do something funny for money. Everyone in the country including sports stars, celebrities and children, do silly things in order to raise money for charity.

Teachers and school children always do something silly on Red Nose Day. They might all wear red clothes to school and small plastic red noses which are sold all over the country and all the money goes to Comic Relief. People can even buy special red noses to put on the front of their car.

The whole day ends in a night of cracking TV show on the BBC with some of the biggest celebrities in comedy and entertainment.

Since the charity was started in the 1980s, Comic Relief has raised over £650 million.
